

APAGS CONVENTION PROGRAM SCHEDULE

APA Annual Convention, August 10-13, 2006

New Orleans, LA

You won't want to miss this year's fantastic APAGS Convention programming! Thanks to the outstanding work of the APAGS Convention Committee Members, Marina Field (Chair), Bobby Reis, Melisa Valle, Brain Hall and Donald Knight, as well as APAGS staff, we have developed another slate of excellent convention programs and social activities for you. Programs cover topics such as internship preparation, mentoring, self-care, dissertations, building a practice, licensure and certification, diversity issues, publication and research strategies, and navigating the convention, just to name a few.

The ever-popular four-hour APAGS Pre-convention Internship Workshop ushers in the convention with an in-depth review of the application process. Registration details and fees for this special program are included inside. Beginning on Thursday, each morning free Food for Thought breakfasts will be hosted in the APAGS suite where students can chat with distinguished psychologists. Consider also participating in one of our free Yoga Break classes held in the APAGS suite on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, and the wrap-up Yoga workshop on Sunday. Space is limited for these programs, so be sure to sign up in advance at the APAGS Booth to reserve your spot.

The APAGS Booth, located in the Convention Center, will have copies of our many free and low-cost resource guides and materials, information about our gradPSYCH magazine, prizes and give-aways, student surveys, and much more. Be sure to purchase a copy of our new APAGS Resource Guide for LGBT Students in Psychology as well as Succeeding in Practicum: An APAGS Resource Guide (Each for $8/APAGS members, $12/non-members). APAGS staff will be on hand at the booth to answer your questions and help you feel welcome and comfortable.

The APAGS Suite, in the Hilton New Orleans Riverside Hotel (room number will be available at the APAGS Booth), will be the hub for many fun and exciting APAGS symposia, workshops, and meetings for those who are interested in becoming more involved in APAGS.

I hope that you will join me for our APAGS Social Hour on Saturday, August 12th from 6:00-7:50 p.m. to enjoy wine, hors d'oeuvres, and the good company of your student colleagues and APAGS leaders and staff. A special invitation is also extended to you to attend my annual program, Women Supporting Women: Mentoring Between APAGS and Eminent Psychologists on Friday. A social hour will follow the presentation, and men interested in mentoring and the development of women in our field are certainly welcome!

Looking for evening entertainment? Stop by the APAGS Booth for recommendations, and more information about how to sign up for APAGS-sponsored activities.

To get more involved with APAGS and to maximize your networking opportunities, volunteer to be an APAGS Ambassador. Ambassadors provide information on convention events, distribute APAGS promotional items, and monitor APAGS programs by taking attendance and collecting evaluations. All Ambassadors must attend an orientation on Wednesday, August 9th. To sign up, visit our Website at www.apa.org/apags.

What follows is a full listing of APAGS programming. Plot your schedule now to attend all of the APAGS programs you can – you'll be in for a treat! Please visit www.apa.org/convention for registration details and additional information about the convention. On-site registration will be available for a $70 student affiliate rate. I look forward to seeing you in New Orleans!

Convention Survival Guide

The APAGS Convention Committee and APAGS Staff have developed an online APA Convention Survival Guide for Students in order to facilitate the process of navigating Convention. The guide will offer suggestions on how to prepare for the Convention experience, highlight APAGS programs, events, and resources available at Convention, inform you of interesting places to visit while in New Orleans and much more! Visit www.apa.org/apags/convention/homepage.html to download the guide. Hard copies will be available at the APAGS Booth.

Present at the 2007 APA Convention

The 115th Annual Convention of the American Psychological Association will take place in San Francisco, CA August 17-20, 2007. That might seem far off, but now is the time to think about presenting your work at this prestigious event. By presenting your work at the APA convention, you will not only gain valuable knowledge and professional contacts, but also professional experience unlike any other available to most graduate students. You will have access to a national audience for sharing your ideas and insights, and you will gain a gem for your CV! Materials must be received in the APA Central Office by December 1, 2006 to be considered for acceptance. Visit www.apa.org/apags/convention/homepage.html for details.

Join an APAGS Subcommittee

APAGS is currently accepting applications for members of the following subcommittees: APAGS Convention Committee, APAGS Committee on Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, and Transgender Concerns (CLGBTC), APAGS Committee on Ethnic Minority Affairs (CEMA) and the Advocacy Coordinating Team (ACT). Subcommittee member applications are due September 1, 2006. Visit: <http://www.apa.org/apags/getinv/subcom.html> for details.
