REQUEST FOR PROPOSALS

FRANCIS M. CULBERTSON TRAVEL GRANT

American Psychological Foundation (APF) Mission and Funding

The APF provides financial support for innovative research and programs that enhance the power of psychology to elevate the human condition and advance human potential both now and in generations to come. It executes this mission through a broad range of scholarships and grants. For all of these, it encourages applications from individuals who represent diversity in race, ethnicity, gender, age, disability, and sexual orientation.

The Francis M. Culbertson Travel Grant supports women from developing countries who are in the earliest stages of their careers. Its description, application requirements, and procedures appear below.

Description

Limited resources in developing countries make it difficult for early-career psychologists to keep abreast of the latest information in psychology. In many of these countries, women are at a special disadvantage. By providing travel funds to attend international and regional conferences, the Culbertson Grant affords opportunities to women in developing countries.

NOTE: APF does not fund applicants from countries that do not have diplomatic relations with the United States.

Program Goals

- Enable promising early career women psychologists to enhance their careers through conference attendance.

Funding Specifics

- Up to $1,500 reimbursement for actual travel and registration expenses, offered biannually;
- Two-year international affiliate membership in the American Psychological Association included.

Eligibility Requirements

- Woman from a developing country, as defined by The World Bank;
- Five to ten years post-doctoral degree;
- Preference for attendance at the following conferences:
 - o International Council of Psychologists (ICP);
 - o International Congress of Applied Psychology (sponsored by the International Association of Applied Psychology (IAAP));
