

Doing Juvenile Justice Research?
Ready to Present your Exciting Results?
Consider the 2010 APA Convention in San Diego!!!

The American Psychology - Law Society (Division 41) is planning a themed program for the 2010 APA convention and our chosen theme is Juvenile Justice. We plan to use our program at APA to highlight the most cutting edge research within the realm of juvenile justice with the goal of highlighting the many legal and psychological issues surrounding youth involved in the criminal justice system.

We would like to invite members from other APA divisions who may be doing research in this area to consider submitting to Division 41.

We are interested in submissions that cover a wide range of topics, such as: research on juvenile offenders, research involving youth as victims or witnesses in legal proceedings, research related to juvenile justice policy, and any other relevant topics. We will also be planning some exciting invited addresses on current juvenile justice issues that will be delivered by experts from both psychological and legal perspectives.

Submissions for all topic areas will be received through the official APA convention website. If you are interested in submitting to Division 41 for the Juvenile Justice theme, select Division 41 and simply note the topic area as Juvenile Justice. The deadline is December 1, 2009.

The convention will be held August 12-15, 2010 in San Diego, California.

If you have any questions, please contact one of the chairpersons for Division 41 program:

Nancy Ryba, Ph.D.
California State University, Fullerton
nryba@fullerton.edu
657-278-5904

Lora Levett, Ph.D.
University of Florida
llevett@ufl.edu
352-392-0265, x205