

Call for student award submissions:

The Society for Military Psychology (Division 19) is offering its annual Military Psychology Research and Travel Awards competition to recognize the contribution of students in the field of military psychology. Division 19, a division of the American Psychological Association is dedicated to the promotion of research and its application to military problems. We believe that student contributions to the field of military psychology are valuable in furthering these efforts and should be recognized.

The purpose of the Military Psychology Research Award is to assist graduate and undergraduate students of psychology with costs associated with conducting research. Proposals in any area of psychology related to the advancement of military psychology will be considered.

The purpose of the Military Psychology Travel Award is to provide funding for student travel to professional conferences to present their already completed (or work in progress) research. This award is intended to help defray travel expenses for conference attendance.

The award(s) will be presented to a student(s) whose research reflects excellence in military psychology. The deadline for entries is 1 May 2006. Instructions and application materials are available on the Division 19 website (http://www.apa.org/divisions/div19/military_psychology/html).
