

Division 51 Awards Winners for 2005

New Division 51 Fellow Mark Stevens gives his address. At left is Fellows Chair Mark Kiselica.

Awards Chair John Robertson, right, and Amy Coonerty-Femiano, center, pose with Francisco J. Sanchez, winner of the Loren Frankel Student Research Award, named after Amy's fiancé, who died in a tragic car accident in December, 2004. The American Men's Studies Association has created a scholarship fund in Loren's name. Please contact Sam Femiano (pat.sam@verizon.net) if you would like to contribute.

Awards Chair John Robertson with Joel Wong, right, winner of the Student of the Year Award. Fellows Chair Mark Kiselica is in background.

Awards Chair John Robertson with Michelle Harway, right, winner of the Distinguished Professional Service Award. Fellows Chair Mark Kiselica is in background.

Awards Chair John Robertson with Holly Sweet, right, winner of the Practitioner of the Year Award. Fellows Chair Mark Kiselica is in background.

Awards Chair John Robertson with Mark Kiselica, right, winner of the Outstanding Advocate for Boys Award.

Awards Chair John Robertson with William Liu, right, co-winner of the Researcher of the Year Award. Fellow Chair Mark Kiselica is in background.

Awards Chair John Robertson with Aaron Rochlen, right, co-winner of the Researcher of the Year Award.

New Division 51 Fellow Martin Heesacker gives his address. At left is Fellows Chair Mark Kiselica.

New Division 51 Fellows Martin Heesacker, right, and Mark Stevens with Fellows Chair Mark Kiselica, center.