

CONSUMPTION AND THE RIGHTS OF MOTHER EARTH

Perspectives on needed change from the fields of economics, jurisprudence, psychology, science, and theology

A SIDE EVENT IN CONJUNCTION WITH THE UN COMMISSION ON SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT 18

Panelists:

- H.E. Pablo Solón, Ambassador of Bolivia to the United Nations
- David H. Krantz, Ph.D., Professor of Psychology, Center for Research on Environmental Decisions, Columbia University, New York, NY, USA
- Eduardo Scarrel, O. Carm., Ph.D., Professor of Science and Atmospheric Studies, University of Buenos Aires, Argentina
- Patricia Siemen, OP, Esq., Executive Director, Center for Earth Jurisprudence, Collaborative Center of Barry and St. Thomas Universities, Miami Gardens, FL, USA

Tuesday, May 11, 6:15 – 7:45 p.m.

Conference Room D

Temporary North Lawn Building, United Nations

SPONSORED BY: Company of the Daughters of Charity, Dominican Leadership Conference, Carmelite NGO, American Psychological Association, Solar Cookers International, Sisters of St. Joseph of Peace, American Ethical Union, Congregation of Notre Dame, Earth Values Caucus, International Association of Applied Psychology, International Council of Women, International Presentation Association, Maryknoll Sisters, New Future Foundation, Inc., Partnership for Global Justice, Pax Christi International, Silberman College of Business of Fairleigh Dickinson University, Temple of Understanding, United Religions Initiative, World Christian Life Community, World Council of Peoples