The PsycINFO Journal Coverage List, 2009

This booklet lists more than 2,400 scholarly, peer-reviewed journals that the American Psychological Association (APA) reviews regularly to identify psychologically relevant articles for coverage in the PsycINFO core collection of databases. For the articles selected from these journals, PsycINFO creates bibliographic records, all of which include abstracts. A subset of these records appears in PsycARTICLES®, PsycBOOKS®, and PsycCRITIQUES, APA's full-text databases, as well as in the PsycSCANS. The presence of a journal title on this list does not imply that all of its articles will be cited, because PsycINFO assesses the psychological relevance of each article independently for many journals, and selects only relevant articles. (More than 60% of the journals are covered comprehensively.)

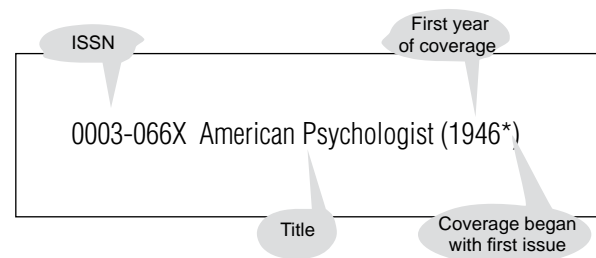

Regular Updates to this List on the World Wide Web

PsycINFO's list of covered journals changes continuously as journals are added and discontinued throughout the year. If you have web access, you can view and locally save an electronic version of this list. Regular updates to the list are generally posted monthly. For web access to this list, visit <http://www.apa.org/psycinfo/covlist.html>. Alphabetical links at the top of the list will help you navigate through the titles.

APA will provide monthly alerts of journals added to the coverage list. To receive notification, subscribe to the APA Listserv at <http://listserv.apa.org/cgi-bin/wa.exe>.

KEY TO THE LIST OF TITLES

- For further information about a journal's coverage history, contact PsycINFO at psycinfo@apa.org
- For publisher addresses, see the publisher and journal Websites linked to the online PsycINFO coverage list at <http://apa.org/psycinfo/covlist.html#list>, or contact PsycINFO.

A Note on Journal ISSNs: PsycINFO database records reflect the ISSN for the print journal. If there is an ISSN for both print and electronic, only print ISSNs are listed in the coverage list. If there is no print ISSN, only the ISSN for the electronic journal is listed.

Coverage Policy

PsycINFO covers a wide range of journals relevant to behavioral and social sciences. Among the related fields covered are neurology, industrial & organizational psychology, business management, healthcare, alternative medicine, and sports psychology.

The geographical scope continues to expand; currently, there are representative journals from 53 countries. Although all abstracts are translated into English, PsycINFO takes a global view of journal literature and seeks to cover as many journals as possible with an international appeal.

If you would like to suggest a journal for coverage or suggest a content area that you feel is underrepresented or not represented at all, please send the title and publisher information to:

We welcome all feedback.

Requirements

To be accepted for coverage, a journal must:

- Be relevant to psychology.
- Be of a quality and scope of interest to an international audience.
- Be peer-reviewed.
 - Peers who are knowledgeable in the subject area and who come from an array of perspectives and settings review submitted manuscripts and advise the editor on their originality, significance, and scientific rigor.
- Have an ISSN.
- Follow standard conventions for scholarly journals:
 - Have an informative title and descriptive article titles.

- Include full addresses for authors.
- Include abstracts and key words.
- Include references that are current, from quality journals, and of an appropriate number for the articles in a standard format.

- Contain usable abstracts, titles, and keywords in English.
- Demonstrate diversity of reviewers and authors—no internal publications.
- Include all or mostly all original articles.
- Contain articles that are substantiated with empirical data or other means.
- Be published on a regular schedule appropriate for the established frequency of the journal.

In addition, electronic journals must:

- Provide evidence of archiving arrangements, online or otherwise.
- Include a posting date for articles and revisions.

Features That Support Acceptance

For all journals:

- Sponsorship by a psychological association or other society
- Psychologists among editorial board members and authors
- Indexed in other databases
- Online access
- English table of contents
- Transliterated references
- Frequency of publication clearly advertised on masthead or webpage

For electronic journals:

- Email listserv
- Presence of version number
- Indication of where previous versions can be obtained
- Links
