

Fellowship Criteria

Division 24

Theoretical and Philosophical Psychology

- 1) a theoretically coherent program of research
- 2) genuine theoretical innovation
- 3) some publishing in broader venues than theoretical journals
- 4) depth development of important ideas (e.g., books)
- 5) participation in the theoretical community (with both "participation" and "community" broadly conceived)