

Children's / Life Skills
Ages 4–8

One day, Line met Dot...and they decided to play together!
It was so much fun they invited their friends—big and small, young and old. The more the merrier. With so many friends, Line and Dot discover that they can create much more than before.

Magination Press
Published by the American Psychological Association
www.apa.org/pubs/magination

CAUCHY

Line and Dot

MAGINATION PRESS

by Véronique Cauchy illustrated by Laurent Simon

One day, Line met Dot... and they decided to play together!

They became a...

Then a...

Dot had a great idea...
"I should invite my friends!"

Different dots started coming from everywhere.
Some little, some big, some young, some old.

With so many dot friends,
Line and Dot could do much more!

Flower

Wheat

Line and the dots
were having a spectacular time.

